

You enter
the temple
through the
floating lotus
you enter into
into the other
place, you enter
into, into the eternal
you are entering going into
going into entering
the temple.
Through the lotus
floating on water
through the water
floating on self
though the self
floats on imagine
through imagination
flame floats water
fire is a flower
in the scene the mind

paints power
in the mind the scene
paints flower
in the flowering of mind
the minding of flower
the finding of form
the form is the flower
the fire forms power
in the place beyond form the face found is you
is your form is from you is formed from flows of you is from beyond your form your flowering
is power as form
is powerless form
in the space surrounding you, your form
floating eternal memory (you)
